service was hopelessly delayed and tangled up.

Many mournful tales are told of the disappointments caused by late trains. Thousands of persons, especially suburbanites or near-suburbanites, missed the parade entirely, having counted on reaching the city hours ahead of it.

The train bearing Gov. Fort, of New Jersey, was four hours late.

The Federal express from Boston, due at 9:20 o'clock Wednesday night, arrived at 7:15 o'clock yesterday morning. There

So, 182,925, an increase of about $800,000 over the expenses of the previous year. Considering that we have just passed through a period of unusual financial depression, when nearly all benevolent and philanthropic work has fallen off very largely, this showing is very remarkable.
